Do Good: Joy of Reconciliation
2 Corinthians 7:8-16

When it comes to doing good, nearly all Christians would admit that they are supposed to do good. However, there is one huge obstacle that every Christian must overcome before doing good can become a reality.

Need for Reconciliation

We need to see the need...

Even Christians fall into sin:

- _____
- _____

1 Corinthians 10:12—Therefore let anyone who thinks that he stands take heed lest he fall.

Conditions for Reconciliation

How do you feel about sin?

- _____
- _____

Result of Reconciliation

Want to change?

True reconciliation=a true change of heart:

- _____
- _____
- _____
- _____
- _____
- _____

A Closing Thought

The joy of reconciliation!

There is joy in being “right” with God:

- Comfort—

- Refreshed—

- Confidence—

I truly believe that what our church is lacking is a good, old fashioned revival. Now, understand what a revival is all about. It has little to do with soul-winning, at least initially. Revival comes when the people of God see the need in their lives to be fully reconciled with God. It comes when the people of God realize that they have allowed something into their lives that has caused their relationship with Jesus to become something less than it is meant to be. In studying the great “revivals” of the past, that is how it started. With the people of God repenting and falling on their knees before God. Then the Spirit was freed to begin working among the people who weren’t yet part of the community of believers in a region.

If we truly desire to “do good” in our community, it will only start as we are willing to humble ourselves, seek full reconciliation with our God through the confession and repentance of sins, and then allowing the Holy Spirit to comfort us, refresh us, and bring us renewed confidence!
