

What Next ~ Life after troubled times...

Well, we went through four weeks of life in troubled times. We came out on the other side with, hopefully, a fresh perspective. However, now we need to answer the logical question that follows, "What's next?" What are we supposed to do after we come to grips with life in troubled times...

What have we been told to do?

We have been told to _____

To ___ means to _____

To ___ means to _____

We have been told to _____

To _____ means to _____

To _____ means to _____

We have been told to _____

To _____ them means to _____

To _____ them means to _____

Acts 1:8

What have we been promised?

We have been promised _____

_____ is needed so we can _____

What we _____

_____ is needed so we can _____

Jesus intends _____

_____ is needed so we can _____

Without _____, our _____

Acts 1:11

What are we waiting for?

The disciples were asked this same question...

Why _____?

We have been called to _____

We have been called to _____

We have been called to _____

Making It Personal

It is time _____

Staring at the _____

Until we put _____

_____...

Christians have faced this challenge, accomplishing the Great Commission, since the day Jesus ascended into heaven. It has never gone away. Only as we accept this challenge and start living out the commandment, will we see the local church actually become meaningful in our lives, in our families, and in our community. Apart from this, the church is nothing more than a social club.

We don't need another social club in town. The Elks, Lions, VFW, and other groups have that role well accomplished. We need to do what we've been told to do!
