

What God Says About Purity

Everyone has opinions. Everyone has beliefs and things about which they think they know enough to make statements. However, did you realize that God has more than opinions? God has some concrete things to say about a lot of different issues. This week, we're going to take a look at what God says about purity.

The Challenge to Purity

Pornography is _____

Homosexuality is _____

Marriage is _____

Most people _____

The instances are exceedingly rare of men immediately passing over a clear marked line from virtue into vice and corruption. There are middle tints and shades between the two extremes; there is something uncertain on the confines of the two empires which they must pass through, and which renders the change easy and imperceptible.

Edmund Burke

Making It Personal

Challenges to _____
_____?

As followers of Jesus Christ, _____
_____.

Moral purity _____
_____.

You cannot live a life of moral purity without sacrifice. You must be willing to sacrifice all that you desire in order to live a life that is pleasing to God. Choosing moral purity means being accountable to God for all of your thoughts and actions. It may also require accountability with other believers. Moral purity carries a cost, but the reward is well worth the cost. After all, we have been bought with a price...the very blood of Jesus Christ was spilled so that we could know forgiveness. The least we can do is live a life that is pleasing to God in all areas!
