I Will
Hebrews 13:1-3, 6

For most people, when asked to describe themselves, they will use “I am” phrases. We especially seem to do this when describing our faith—I am a Christian. However, for true growth and maturity, we need to move from “I am” statements to “I will” statements.

I Will Pray

The first way to show love is prayer...

Let brotherly love continue...

If you love someone—

Will= _____

Will= _____

I Will Connect

No one wants to be neglected...

Do not neglect to show hospitality...

If you love someone—

Will= _____

Will= _____

I Will Invite

Remember, sin is a prison...

Remember those who are in prison...

If you love someone—

Will= _____

Will= _____

A Final Thought

I will not fear...

Because He will never leave me—

For most people, the reason they never reach out and connect, is fear. Fear of rejection, fear of entanglement, fear of failure; whatever the actual “of” part, it is fear. I am reminded that the Bible tells us that God did not give us a spirit of fear, but of love, self-control, and power. So, if fear is my motivator for not praying, connecting, and inviting, I can be sure that it doesn’t come from God.

I hope you will continue to pray for your neighbors, that you will begin looking for opportunities to connect, and that when the time is right you will invite them to come and experience what true freedom feels like.

I have but one passion: It is He, it is He alone. The world is the field and the field is the world; and henceforth that country shall be my home where I can be most used in winning souls for Christ.
