New Beginnings ~ New Again

Joshua 8:3-35

Defeat never feels good. It can be gut wrenching. Especially when that defeat comes after we follow a scheme that had previous success, when we were following a plan that God had previously had us follow. How do we respond to such a failure? How do we turn a defeat back into victory? What do we do?

New Strategy

Who are we trusting?

Remember man's strategy:

- _____
- _____
- _____
- A failed strategy— _____

Look at God's strategy:

- _____
- _____
- _____
- God's strategy— _____

New Victory

Better than expected...

The enemy's over-confidence:

- Israel runs away— _____
- _____
- Yet— _____
- Not a single victory— _____

A Renewal

After a victory...

Israel does three things:

- Build an altar— _____
- Write the law on the altar— _____
- Read the law— _____

*Let heaven see that, even on earth,
it has those who stand on its side.
Let hell know, that even on earth,
there are those who make war against it with the Word of God.*

THOMAS À KEMPIS

Conclusion

What or who are you trusting?

Israel's repeated failure:

- People _____
- People _____
- People _____
- People _____

Our own failures probably relate to our own forgetfulness. We know what God has provided for us through Jesus. We celebrate God's provisions for us and especially our own salvation. Yet, somehow along the way we forget it all and we begin to turn to our own understanding and decide to satisfy our own desires above those of the Lord. We fall into sin. Our sin may be as simple as trusting in certain ways of doing things or certain programs. Or our sin may be seeking to satisfy our selfish desires. Whatever the case, our response must be the same.

Deal with the sin, seek God's redemption, and then renew again our determination to follow Him. That is what Israel did. They dealt with the sin, sought God's redemption, and then they renewed their commitment to the follow the covenant between God and Israel.
