Intersections ~ Past & Present

1 Timothy 1:12-17

For so many people their past defines their present. One thing about our past, we all have one; for most of us it contains things we would rather not talk about.

Paul, the author of 1 Timothy had a past, and yet he didn't allow that past to define his present. Here is some good news, neither do you.

Past

We all have one...

Blasphemer—

Persecutor—

Insolent opponent—

Ignorant—

Unbelief—

Present

Our present can be different...

Judged—

Faithful—

Appointed—

Service—

Intersection

Jesus made the difference...

Overflowing grace—

Faith & love—

Received mercy—

Don't hold onto your past; if you do, it will hold onto you.

ANONYMOUS

Conclusion

Salvation...

Trustworthy—

Jesus came to save sinners—

If I allowed my past to define my present I would not be a pastor. I am amazed that God would call such a one as myself to this ministry. Until I look at the crowd that I am a part of. Abraham was a liar, Moses was a murderer, David was an adulterer, and Peter was a braggart, and Paul was a blasphemer and insolent man, opposed to Jesus. All of these men were chosen, not because of how good they were, but because God had confidence in them to accomplish what He set before them to do. He has that same confidence in you; He will meet you at the intersection of your past and your present.
