If we have learned nothing else about faith in this series, we should know that faith always acts. It should not surprise us that these actions are sometimes unfathomable.

True faith will always be willing to take the drastic, life-altering steps that God’s call will often require. As we continue to look at faith in this chapter of the Bible, it is so clear that when people are confronted by God’s call, they must choose to change their life, to bring it into step with God’s direction. That takes faith, and faith always acts!
